A Cat in the Hat!

Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to great places! You're off and away! You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go. You'll go up and down streets. Look 'em over with care. About some you will say, "I do not choose to go there." With your head full of brains and your shoes full of feet, you're too smart to go down any not–so–good street. And you may not find any you'll want to go down. In that case, of course, you'll head straight out of town. It's opener there in the wide open air. Out there things can happen and frequently do to people as brainy and footsy as you. And when things start to happen, don't worry. Don't stew. Just go right along. You'll start happening too. OH! THE PLACES YOU'LL GO!

Amusements '92

The Senior Class certainly knows how to have fun! Whether it is partying all together on the weekends or just hanging out with a few friends, we know where to find enjoyment.

While you underclassmen pile on the buses, you may see the seniors hopping into their cars and speeding off. Where do they go, you ask? Many go off to lessons, others to hang out in the center. They always keep busy.

The seniors make up a major part of Weston athletics, and show great school spirit with their participation. There is also a strong group of actors among the class. They love performing and give it their all to entertain the school and community. After graduation the senior class will reflect on how much they enjoyed their friends, parties and being members of school activities.

It isn't just academics that shape your high school career. Rather than just the grades, it is the fun you have outside of the classroom. Whether it be dance or piano lessons, prom parties or barbecues, field hockey or football, musicals or drama, senior life is very exciting!

As exciting as this year has been, just wait until after we are into college.

The Magic of '93

They've Dazzled Us For Years

As a class we have traveled through four long years, shaping our personalities and our ideals. Every individual personality has contributed to our class, making us a uniquely diverse grade.

Our vast differences have helped us pool our strengths to create our high school memories—Nantucket, Red Sox games, the Prom, and Paintball to name only a few.

The skills and talents of the seniors are too numerous to write down, but they have showed through in our accomplishments as a grade, whether it was on the playing field, in the class room, or at social events.

To all members of the Class of 1993, good luck in the future– you have proved that success can be achieved by using all our resources and working as a team.

Presto! Prom Preparation

As easily excited juniors, the Class of 1993 trotted down to the Town Hall the Monday afternoon of Prom Week. Lists, materials, and power tools in hand, we all huddled to read the small white note awaiting us on the huge entrance door. It said that there would be a budget meeting that night and as a result, the Ballroom could not be worked in. A worried and somewhat panicked look spread across our faces. Some of the more positive ones among us were not worried at all, knowing our class could accomplish anything in four days as well as in five.

When we finally began working on Tuesday, everyone was efficient, including those who managed to get to the food before the rest of us. Drawing, painting, cutting, stapling and gluing were done by one and all. We decorated the stage, built the walls of a ship, made an octopus, and created an underwater atmosphere consisting primarily of rippling waves and fish (even a shark), seaweed, treasures, maps, rocks, anchors– everything. You name it, we had it. "Shangrila Under the Sea" looked great!

Thanks to everyone who helped, especially our construction whizzes, Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Bray, and all the parents.

A Magical Moment

"Shangrila Under the Sea"

The night of the Junior Prom was the enchanting underwater paradise the class had hoped to create. Everything from the walls of our ship, "Shangrila", to the octopus lurking inside these walls looked perfect. The atmosphere was completed with the great music from the Zaitchik Brothers Band, featuring our own David Fuller, and the more than 200 students who danced the night away.

The Class of 1993 will never forget "Shangrila Under the Sea" because of the work put into it and also the great time we had on that Saturday night, May 9, 1992.

The excitement most of us felt on the night of the prom is very hard to describe and cannot be felt unless you've actually experienced it. Working towards preparing the prom gave us all a chance to get to know each other better while we worked together. And then to discover we had created such a successful result....well....that was the icing on the cake.

During the evening students voted for whom they thought deserved the title of King and Queen of the Prom. Jill Foley was voted Queen and Steffen Kondi was named King. Both had worked extremely hard to produce "Shangrila Under the Sea." The class would like to thank them for all their effort.

After dinner and dancing, most of us wanted to keep on enjoying ourselves, so we went on to after-prom parties, and other "get-togethers," planned by several junior and senior prom-goers.

The popular conversation topic at these parties was, of course, the prom. As I listened, it sounded as if everyone had a great time!

How They've Charmed Us . . . Through The Years

LEFT.We are the "Lifers" of Weston High School

It all started back in the fall of 1980. The Field School was still open, we all took the bus to school, and homeroom was our only classroom of the day. We've been together for thirteen years. We are the "lifers" of Weston High Schoool.

For those of us who began school together, graduation holds much more importance than receiving a high school diploma. It means leaving the only classmates we have ever known. We've stuck together for so long, through good and bad times. Next year will seem strange without the sea of familiar faces welcoming us back to school.

We all have many fond memories to reflect upon as we depart from the Weston schools. Starting way back in elementary school–lunch ladies, field days, and gala events such as the Whangdoodle play will not be forgotten.

Through it all our class has undoubtedly proved to be unique. From kissing contests in fifth grade, to being the smallest graduating class, '93 has forged its own special path.

Come June, the "lifers" will bid farewell. But no matter how far we all stray, we will forever hold the special common bond which comes with being a lifer.

The Class of '93 has definitely grown up through the years. While our lives were once centered around slumber parties, Saturday morning cartoons, and Smurf lunch-boxes, they are now centered around SAT scores and being accepted at the colleges of our choice.

From sitting outside Mrs. Tegler's office while coloring pictures as punishment for some of our not–so–fine moments, and perfecting the alphabet while in Country School; to putting on "The Last of The Great Whangdoodles," and "China Night" at Woodland School, we were a success.

We will always remember the good times we shared during our Middle School trips to Canobie Lake, Quebec, and, of course, Washington, D.C. The Class of '93 has always known how to work hard, and to play hard.

Our experiences at Weston High School have brought us the same great success. From freshman year, all the way to graduation, we made things work. Our car washes and Junior Class Auction were the most profitable ever. Our class trips were a blast, and Shangri–La was an exceptionally successful prom, thanks to many hours of hard work.

If the Class of '93 demonstrates as much hard work, dedication, and talent after we graduate from Weston High as we have shown from kindergarten all the way through senior year, then our futures will be some of the brightest that Weston has ever seen.

When you have a problem
And you have no where to look.
You know your sibling will be there,
To get you off the hook.

You may not know it
But a sibling is a friend.
Someone to depend on
To count on 'till the end.

So, even when there's hate
Make up–it won't take long.
Because you'll turn 'round one day,
And find that they are gone.

Know that there are words
To cheer them when they're blue.
And from time to time remember
They need to hear, "I love you!"

Yellow limos start pulling up in front of the high school, and Seniors and Juniors step out of their cars. Slowly WHS comes to life. There are screams as friends greet each other after the long summer. It seems as if they haven't seen each other for years. The sun is still warm on people's skin, and the thought of the tasty barbecue lingers in everyone's mind. For the first time, you actually see smiles on people's faces as they look forward to their first day of school with new classes, teachers, and faces of new students. There is also a lot of excitement to see your old friends, whom you haven't seen since last spring. "Summer" seems to be on everyone's lips.

Unfortunately the day goes by quickly, and by the end of the day it already seems like the third week of school! Teachers, who somehow forgot that summer vacation just ended yesterday, load on homework. It seems as if we never left school and we begin to wish for Christmas vacation.

The Seniors hang out on the cafeteria radiators and take over the senior tables during lunch, proclaiming their rights for the first time. They walk around the school with grim faces and tired looks, which they will keep until all college applications have been turned in. At the same time they debate whether they should go out to lunch or not. Juniors, look on at their junior year a bit critically and fearfully, knowing this is the hardest and most important year of their high school life. SAT's and Achievements also linger in the back of their minds. But they also have their auction and prom to look forward to, too. Sophomores feel superior as they no longer are considered the little freshmen. They now tease the new freshmen. And the Freshmen (easily spotted with a crumpled white schedule in their hands) drag themselves from class to class as they try to adjust to the change of middle school to high school. And at the same time they try to avoid the upper classmen.

Summer has been forgotten and we are now under the same monotonous routine. Well, . . .here we go again, with only 179 more days to go for the next summer vacation.

Shazaam!! Trends of 1992-93

Catch them before they disappear

Weston students pride themselves on being able to pick up on the latest trends. Conversation in the caf often centers around what new cars have appeared in the parking lot or what new CD's have been released.

Our parents used to laugh when we asked them what an 8-track was. Now the question has become "What's a record?" as the age of CD's has taken over. Weston students will readily shell out the extra few dollars to be able to hear the superior sound quality of this new technology. This year's hottest selling CD's are the Red Hot Chili Peppers, Pearl Jam, Spin Doctors, U2, and long-time favorite Guns 'N' Roses.

On the fashion scene, don't throw away those J. Crew catalogs just yet. This popular brand name is being sported on Weston High students again this fall, particularly in the forms of ribbed sweaters, barn jackets, and plaid flannel shirts. An observer might think he was in Scotland with all of the plaid being worn, from shirts to skirts to even shoes. When you hear a student talk about Berks, Docks or Teevas, they are not speaking a foreign language, but informing their friends about the most recent trends in footwear.

Food will always remain in style. But what are the eating this year? Since the cafeteria has upgraded their food service and expanded their menus, more students are buying lunches than brown-bagging them. Top choices include salads and Clearly Canadians for the healthy set; or hamburgers, fries and the famous cat cookies for the rest of us. For those that do bring their lunches, recycling, has clearly had its influence. Traditional brown paper bags are being replaced by lunch boxes as students contribute their share to save the environment. There are still students who take advantage of their driver's license and zip off to McDonald's, Papa Gino's or Ernie's as soon as the bell sounds for first lunch.

ABOVE. Nicko Abraham, Jon Allen and Dave Harding show off the latest trend, tatoos, while Brian Sullivan indicates that he will be getting one soon.

What's in style in the parking lot, besides cigarettes, is as one student put it, "anything with four wheels and an engine." It doesn't matter what you drive as long as it can get you from your front door to school and back again. However, the regular collection of Jeeps, Volvos, and BMW's are still seen cruising out of the lot at the end of school.

The trends of '92 will come and go, but you can bet that the students of Weston High School will pick up on them before they magically disappear.

Activities' Fair '92

Some 400 students and adults got together during the first Conference Period of the year to participate in the Activities' Fair which provided an opportunity for signing up for activities ranging from Yearbook to SEA. There were also many new clubs this year, including the Yoga Club sponsored by Doctor Topakian and the Art Club led by Jim Moran. The ever–popular Triathalon Club still has a booming membership. Of course, Coach Foley will "police" its membership come picture-taking day.

According to Mrs. Marsh, Activities' Coordinator, a record number of people signed up to get involved with various activities this year.

This event also provided an opportunity for fund-raising. Several clubs and classes sold food and sodas to a hungry and thirsty group of students.

Giving us a big boost of school spirit and allowing many people who wouldn't have otherwise had a chance to meet one another is another major function of the Activities' Fair. Senior Ruheena Razvi sums it all up with these words, "The Activities Fair gave me a chance to sign up for all the clubs I wanted and to also meet new friends. I'm really glad we had it!"

The Illusion of Christopher Columbus

1492—1992 A Day of Discovery

Was Columbus a hero or a villain? How has Columbus shaped America? These were two of the questions the 1492 Celebration posed in an attempt to help us develop our opinions on the subject.

The day began with enthusiastic performances by Mr. Verovsek as Columbus and Mrs. Cottle as Queen Isabella. Breakfast consisting of corn bread, prepared by the cooking classes, and chocolate milk was served in New Age Homerooms.

Students then proceeded to classrooms where they listened to speakers in areas ranging from prejudice and bigotry to Native American cultures. Many speakers, including Mr. Verovsek as Columbus, held sessions for the students encouraging participation and questioning. Students enjoyed Latin American music and Native American food during an extended lunch break.

The afternoon continued with a fascinating presentation by Bill Pinckney during which he showed us slides describing his solo sailing trip around the world. The day concluded with an exciting Jeopardy Game which was won by Senior HomeRoom 24.

The celebration was a huge success and most certainly a nice day of no classes.

In Memory of Kerry Sommers

We were very saddened by the sudden death, this past summer, of 1991 Weston High School graduate, Kerry Sommers. We are happy to dedicate our Yearbook in her memory. Kerry's family has furnished us with pictures, and has written the following to be included in this dedication.

The three of us want to thank Kerry's friends, teachers and administrators from the Weston High School, as well as the wonderful people of this town, for honoring Kerry's memory and for supporting us in our loss. We found Weston to be a true community of caring and giving people. She loved growing up with you, and she is surely happy as she looks down on our smiles as we think of her.

Kerry had a smile and a kind word for her fellow travelers in life, so pass it on with your laughter and your caring concern for others. Keep a song in your heart as you remember Kerry and the words her Uncle Phil wrote for her.

We'll be walking soon with the one we love,
the one we've all been thinking of.
Though she isn't here, though her voice is still,
we'll find her near, and we always will.

We will see her face in the rising sun.
We'll hear her voice when the day is done.
She will tell us all that we must be strong,
and with Kerry's love we will carry on.

Thank you, Weston
Jennifer, Kathi
and Mead Sommers

The following excerpts were part of the service given at Kerry's funeral by her father, Mead Sommers.

While she is surely with them now, Kerry Sommers was not a perfect angel during her stay with us here on earth. Part of the problem was locating a free spirit in a family somewhat more geared to organization and discipline; the other part the basic disease of teenageism. That's when people mistakenly believe that fun and friends are more important than self-denial and hard work.

Kerry's dirty laundry pile could clothe a small army, and contained as many items belonging to the rest of the family, including me, as ones rightfully hers; her household chore schedule was on a calendar without days or weeks--only months; homework was meant to be done only when no friends were available; and it was better to have five partially finished cans of soda spread around the house than one completely empty. She had an absolutely uncanny ability for raising my usually stable blood pressure.

Her priorities concerning school work versus social activities can be exemplified in three situations.

First, as a Saint Lawrence freshman, she needed a 2.6 average to pledge a sorority. Her average--I recall was something like a 2.62. No misdirected academic effort there.

The second example concerns detentions. Before Kerry entered Weston High School I'd never heard of high school pink slips. But she collected them the way others might collect stamps. Late for class, talking in class, assignments incomplete. Shameful behavior! This morning we got a call from Florida, from Phyllis Fleisher. Her former job in the Attendance Office at Weston High School included overseeing many of the detention sessions. She called to tell us how she and Kerry had many long discussions during those detentions, how attached she'd become to Kerry, and what a terrible loss this jewel was for the world. Kerry even converted her jailers.

Thirdly, I remember one particularly frustrating night when Kerry was still in high school. I knew she had a major paper due the next day, and there she was at ten o'clock getting ready to go out. She said one of her friends had a problem and needed her help. I insisted Kerry finish her paper. But the only way to keep her at home would have been with a ball and chains. She explained in no uncertain terms that her friend's needs were simply more important than her paper. Out she went.

For the last few nights Kerry's friends have visited and regaled us with Kerry stories. Smiling and joking and laughing just hours and days after Kerry's death. Death is supposed to be a somber business, but these young people aren't wearing or thinking black. They're immortalizing the memory of experiences and lessons from a people expert. They're engraving on their hearts a priceless and hopefully timeless picture of love.

I reject the old view of bereavement as the expression of suffering and loss, and I ask you all to join me in the celebration of everything Kathi, Jen and I, along with Kerry's many, many friends, have learned from the way she lived her life.

Because of you, Kerry, we are a little different.

We notice colors a little more.
We notice other people's needs a little more.
We laugh a little more.
And we cry a little more.

We vow to you, Kerry, that when we are reminded of you, we will not feel the emptiness of your absence, but the fullness of your influence on our lives and your presence in our beings.

Class Advisors

They Have a Touch of Magic

Though the Class of '93 has had its share of ups and downs, there are five people who have stood by us all the way from freshman year to graduation. They are Mr. John Williams, Mrs. Cheryl Maloney, Mrs. Tilda Mitsakos, Mrs. Judy Harding and Mrs. Sarah Weisman, our Class Advisors and Parent Advisors. Without their continuous dedication and support, we would never have survived four years at the high school.

Our class advisors are rarely recognized for all of the long hours they spend working on class activities. Because of their hard work, the class advisors have guided The Class of '93 over obstacles to produce some great events including the most successful auction in Weston High School history. Beginning in 1990 with the "Godspell" dinner, Red Sox games and Canobie Lake Park, our class advisors labored day and night to achieve full class participation and spirit.

Sophomore year success continued with an incredible car wash. We danced the night away at the Semi-Formal Dance and tanned ourselves on the island of Nantucket.

But they didn't stop there, During Junior year, our advisors lead us through another car wash, the auction, the Prom and Paint ball.

Now that Graduation approaches, we have tried to calculate the amount of time our advisors have sacrificed to make our lives better at Weston High School. But we have come to realize that is an impossible task, the hours are incalculable. We can't thank or appreciate them enough.

The Class of "93 would also like to give a special thanks to Mr. Mike Sullivan and Mr. Bray for their enormous efforts at prom construction; to Mr. Charlie Sullivan for all his help with the concession stand; and to all the parents who have supported our class. Also a special recognition to Mrs. Roberta Siegel for her expert photography.

—Sarah Glovsky
—Stacy Jupiter

Oh, The Places You'll Go

You'll be on you way up!
You'll be seeing great sights!
You'll join the high fliers
Who soar to high heights.
You won't lag behind,
because you'll have the speed.
You'll pass the whole gang and you'll take the lead.
Wherever you fly, you'll be best of the best.
Wherever you go, you will top all the rest.

—Dr. Seuss

Every time that I look in the mirror,
All these lines
On my face gettin'clearer.
The past is gone,
It went by like dust to dawn.
Isn't that the way,
Everybody's get their dues
In life to pay.

I know nobody knows,
Where it comes and where it goes.
I know it's everybody's sin,
You got to lose
To know how to win.

Kicking around a piece of ground in Your home town, waiting for someone or Something to show you the way. Tired of lying in the sun, staying home to watch the rain, you are young and life is long and there is time to kill today, but one day you find ten years have got behind you, no one told you when to run, you missed the starting gun. And you run to catch up with the sun, but it's sinking and racing around to come up behind you again.But you're older now, shorter of breath and one day closer to death. "Il vaut mieux vivre avec des remords qu' avec des regrets"

This sentence is, perhaps, the most important of my life, it gave me the courage to present myself before the Rombas committee.

Thanks to the Rombas committee for choosing me, to all the families who hosted me to all my American friends for the incredible moments spent with you; I will miss you.

This year spent with you, in this country will be, for me, unforgetable.

Tout cela est grace a vous, Papa, Maman, Mylene, ma famille et mes amis, merci a vous.

Top Ten Reasons Why the Class of '93 is Awesome

10. We work hard —PSYCH!
9. We had the most successful auction in Weston history.
8. We keep Ernie's in business.
7. We know how to party under water (Prom '92)
6. We can construct the entire Prom in four days.
5. We drive the nicest cars.
4. We can go through two kegs in one night.

2. No class has bonded as much as we have.
1. Just because we are!!!!

LEFT. Nick Deranek, Ken Doyle, Cy Butler, Scott Sack, Kevin McCall, Seth Hayes, Jon Allen and Sunil Gandhi are excited to be on the eighth grade field trip to Washington, D.C.

Oh, the Places You'll Go!

— 1994 —

The Junior Class of 1994 enjoyed a very active and successful year. Led by class officers Ben Smith, Matt Delduchetto, Ellen Walpert, Darren Levy, and Nick Madden, there were numerous events on the class agenda.

We held a very profitable car wash in September and in October sold refreshments at the Field School on Town voting day. Linda Bentley and Julie Belkin organized an extremely successful Junior Auction in February. In March, we took a trip to see the Celtics–Bulls game, which was a big hit.

And, I almost forgot, we held the Prom!! Spurred on by chairpersons Kristin Lonergan, Robyn DeLacy, and Annie Dempsey, Our Cinderella Ball theme was an unequalled success!

Through these various events, the class bonded, during this our second-to-last year in the Weston Schools. Have a great summer and look forward to reuniting next year as the Senior Class!

Special thanks to parent advisors Kitty Smith, Pat Gowdy and Joan Belkin; also our class advisors Helia daCosta-Poremba and Iona Nickeson whose work never goes non-appreciated. "Till next year!"

BELOW. The '94 Class Officers and their advisors spent a worthwhile day at the Leadership Seminar. They are Mrs. Gowdy, Mrs. Belkin, Mrs. daCosta-Poremba, Matt Delduchetto, Nick Madden, Ben Smith, Mrs. Nickeson, Mrs. Smith and Ellen Walpert.

—1995—

The Class of 1995 has had an exciting, yet busy year. Planning class trips and our semi-formal kept us occupied, but we still found time to keep up with our schoolwork and to participate in after-school activities.

We feel our class came together by showing great enthusiasm for all school events. From the Freshmen-Sophomore Dance that we hosted for the Freshmen at Meadowbrook School, to the birthday party for our class president, we've been able to keep our attitudes positive and our spirits up.

Our class is really adventuresome, as we went on an afternoon ski trip to Wachusett during the winter.

Although graduation is a long two years away, we feel confident and ready to face this time.

We would really like to thank our class advisors, Mr. Neild and Mrs. Carter; and also our parent advisors, Mrs. Schaubert and Mrs. Carr. Without their help, our Sophomore year would never have been as productive and enjoyable. Thank you very much.

— 1996 —

The first day of school I was nervous because I did not know how it would feel to be in high school this year. I was sure the classes would get harder as the year progressed. But I actually found I was able to do well in a few of my classes. Surprise!

I was pressured a lot from upperclassmen (mostly sophomores) as payment to the Class of '96 for what they got last year. It was rough-housing mostly, but even that calmed down as the year went on.

I'm grateful. The year turned out well. I got good grades and a great education. I think it's important that your number one priority become school work during the first term term. During second term, you can try some other things like sports–as long as you still study.

The Class of '96 will leave its mark on Weston High School. See you next year.

Watch out Class of '97–'96 is still "at large."

Faculty and Staff

Teachers are an important part of our school's atmosphere. Some people might ask, "What are teachers for?" There is a simple answer to that question. Teachers are here to guide us and teach us about new and exciting things. They also help us to look at the world in a variety of ways. By sharing their own life experiences, they prepare us for our dive into the real world, which for some (i.e., the Class of '93) is sooner than others.

The Class of '93 wishes to thank all the faculty and staff for caring so much for us. They have all been our friends during these past four years; friends, like diamonds, are precious and rare.

We read with pleasure each teachers personal message to our class and the whole school. Thank you for remembering us.

A Team To Be Proud Of

With another great season

The 1992 Weston Football team, more than the legacy it leaves behind, will forever be remembered as the team with the heart that never said "die." Despite two regular season loses, it was the unprecedented determination that brought the athletes together as a brotherhood of champions. More than victory itself, Weston football played for pride and respect. Though the season was shy of a superbowl, in the ranks of Weston Football, a crown of pride and commitment is always worth more.

The Wildcats hosted a wealth of talent from the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior class. Led by the Tri-captains Luke Gutelius, Thomas Kim, and the legendary wishbone quarterback Cy Butler, the athletes believed in sharing a common goal rather than seeking individual ones. It was belief, visualization, self-discipline, desire and sacrifice that were essential to the collective success of the team.

To understand the majesty of 1992 Weston Football, one has to look behind the season and discover the motivation behind the commitment. Maybe one day, the coaches, the season, the record, and the field will all fade away, but legend of Weston football will never, ever die.

—Thomas Kim

Together

Having their best season yet!

Tri-captains Erin Kalakowsky, Vicky Rogaris, and Stacy Jupiter, plus DCL all-stars Alissa White and Shannon Walker, the five senior Wildcats, said good-bye to Weston soccer on a high note. With the help of many talented underclassmen, the team finished at 10-3-5, the best record ever accumulated by a Weston girl's soccer team.

Throughout the season, the girls remained in contention for the DCL title. No one will ever forget the thrashing of Westford on their home field to literally kick them out of first place. And the routs against Boston Latin, when their coach complained that we tried too hard, were certainly memorable.

But the 'Cats' pride themselves on always trying their hardest under any conditions and any weather. Even when they came up on the short end of a 2-1 heartbreaker versus Notre Dame in the State Tournament, no fan in the bleachers could say that the girls had not spilled their hearts and souls on the playing field.

The team was a family off the field as well as a cohesive unit on the battleground. Bound by plenty of candy and excellent psyche tapes, the team knew how to have fun after the last whistle was blown. There were frequent visits to Fell's, Papa Gino's and LeChateau where everyone bonded over good food.

Next year promises to be another success for the girl's soccer program. The returning crew will come back to make "reaching the State Tournament not a goal, but a tradition," as best put by Vicky Rogaris in her final words to the team.

—Stacy Jupiter

The Weston Boy's Soccer Team struggled through another tough season in the difficult Dual County League this year. But the season was in no way a wash as the team had a lot of fun under the supervision of second-year Coach Franco Bruno. Led by high-scoring forwards, co-captain Levon Kurkjian, senior Steffan Kondi, and sophomore sensation Pete DeLea, the team doubled its win total from last year.

The team will miss the leadership and play from seniors John Davies, Carl Agnello, Jim Campos, Arthur Papas, Steffan Kondi and Levon Kurkjian. But next year's team has a solid nucleus consisting of freshman goalie Brain Coburn, sophomore defender Stefan Lysak, sophomore forward Toru Bando, and junior Co-captain Ben Smith. No doubt, we will be a force to be reckoned with in the DCL next year.

Thanks seniors for all the memories from next year's team—see you in August!

Another victorious season

BELOW. With great pride, CeCe Sullivan watches her team as they fight for another win.

Our team, once again, reigned over the Dual County League. We started the season with a 3-0 win over Lincoln-Sudbury. Our shutouts continued as we won more games.

Each player contributed to the play, whether defensively or offensively, including Kanika Chopra and Dima Reda in goal. Despite injuries to key scorer Lisa Barro, we continued to rack up the wins. All players stepped up to the challenge against our big opponents, Concord-Carlisle and Acton-Boxboro.

In our last regular season game, five goals were scored–one for each playing senior–to usher in our fourth DCL championship title in a row. In the spotlight were DCL All-Stars Dima Reda, CeCe Sullivan, Robyn DeLacy and Steph Benotti.

Post season proved more difficult. Weston worked hard and used every skill to make it the Division I North Semi-finals. This and other accomplishments remain customary to these skilled stickhandlers. Fantastic job, girls!

Well ahead of the pace!

Weston's Cross Country teams had another outstanding season last fall. The Lady Wildcats finished fifth in the Dual County All-League Meet and tenth in the Eastern Massachusett's State meet at Franklin Park.

The boy's squad qualified for the state competition in Gardner by finishing fifth in Eastern Massachusetts.

Losing four of the six members to graduation in June, the girls are looking for new prospects for next year.

Young and full of energy, the freshmen and sophomores who make up the majority of the team, will be extremely competitive over the next couple of years. Both teams' successes were a result of the hard work, dedication and endless hours that the coaches, John Monz and Jim Moran, gave the harriers.

Cheerleading

Through rain and sleet, they kept us on our feet

Many people don't realize the hard work and time that's put into being a cheerleader. We spend hours creating cheers, choreographing routines and learning gymnastic moves. During the season, we practice everyday after school.

In the mud, rain, ice and snow, we are at the games in our short skirts, cheering the team and wearing a smile. All of this takes commitment, flexibility and body strength.

With the help of our coach "Special K," Diane Kaskon, I know the cheerleaders will continue to have success. I would like to thank her and everyone who helped support us this year.

Good luck to the Class of Ninety-Three.

The Tide has risen once again with a season of 14-1. There were many separate girls and guys meets which allowed both sides to shine. At first, quad-captains Carrie Donnellan, David McFarland, CeCe Sullivan and Peter Haas were worried about the coed team separating, but they managed to create a family atmosphere with regular team dinners and Aspen Extreme adventures.

The girls found tough competition in the Lincoln Sudbury and DCL meet. Despite L.S.'s childish posters and warpaint, the GLOWS (Gorgeous Ladies of Weston Swimming) held their own. The girls showed their spirit and dedication by volunteering to shave the back of their heads. Sporting a wonderful red mohawk, Captain CeCe won the award for the most original haircut.

There were many strong swimmers on the girl's side. CeCe Sullivan led the way in the butterfly. Nicole Greene, Ali Vaughan and Amy Connolly were our most valuable sprinters. Carrie Donnellan took care of the long distances, while Margaret O'Brien and Meg Davidson showed their strength in the backstroke. Freshmen, such as Elise Estes and Jenny Parker, showed strong improvements as well.

Weston divers had a winning season with support from Kelly Ferro. Senior Stephanie Pappanikou showed leadership, holding the team together. Caroline Lamotte and Ben Pring dove well at States, while Steph Hablow showed amazing growth. Beginners Ben Smith, Stephane Rohmer and Morgan Heintz were a pleasure to watch.

The boys of Weston swimming had quite a remarkable season. The true highlight was winning the Division Two State Meet, where they came out on top of Seekonk. Captains Dave McFarland and Peter Haas led the team with outstanding swims. Dave dropped eight seconds in the I.M., coming in third and also placed second in the 100 yard freestyle. Peter came in third in the butterfly and was in the top six for the 50 yard freestyle. Chris Melling did spectacularly well in the backstroke and freshman Sam Brooks made strong strides in the breaststroke.

Throughout the season, senior Steve Davenport and junior Matt Delduchetto held strong positions as distance swimmers. Newcomer Mike O'Donnell proved to be a very important sprinter. Also performing well were Kurt Ward and Scott Zaph in the breaststroke and Carl Valle, Freshman Matt Flaherty and Tug Winston in the butterfly.

Here's to an awesome season!

Girl's Basketball

BELOW. Dima Reda looks for a pass under the hoop.

Scoreboards and statistics cannot do justice to the success of the 1992-93 girl's basketball season. Although the team placed far from the top of the ultra-competitive DCL, the games played this year were by far the most intense and two-sided as any played by a Weston Hoops Team.

Above all, the girls were known for their class and dignity on the court, despite poor officiating and roughhousing from overly aggressive teams. It was this class, combined with the talent of a small ten-person squad, that propelled Weston to within nine points of an upset over DCL champs Acton-Boxboro. Other memorable matches include the last second two-point game and the stunning victories in the Watertown Tournament.

Leading the team in scoring was junior all-star Holly Gutelius. Following close behind were tri-captain and all-star Dima Reda, Jen Weisman, and Ann Gowdy. Tri-captain Tricia DiBenedetto and Maria Valle provided excellent front court play while Seniors Jacqueline Wohlers and tri-captain Stacy Jupiter rained in the "threes." Akosua Cook and Tyrickia Burrell used their speed to handle the ball and blow by defenders.

Best of luck to the returning players for the 1993-94 season. Look out for upcoming stars Liz Freedman, Amy Antman, Jackie Chandler, Stacey Millen, Claire Forgacs and Anya Lakner.

The Boy's Basketball team experienced a surprisingly successful season this year. Led by Senior Tri-captains Dwayne (Dooky) Simmons, Levon (Velvet) Kurkjian and Cy (Show) Butler, the season concluded with a 13-9 record.

The Wildcats exploded out of the blocks compiling a ten game winning streak. Fans went wild over these opening season blowouts. They packed the cage with enthusiasm and excitement.

Unfortunately, all good things must come to as end, as the Wildcats dropped the next seven games. But they continued to persevere which paid off. They won their last two out of three games and annihilated New Testament in their first tournament game. The second round game against Rockport was a hard fought battle, but the end of the road had come. The Wildcats and their fans said goodbye to a season of disappointment and glory and to all the fun that accompanied it.

Indoor Track Continues With Glory

This was a season of hard work, rebuilding and development for the Boy's Indoor Track Team. And while we did have a mildly abysmal record, there were also numerous bright spots. Sophomore sprint sensations Winsett Charles and Sharriff Rudolph provided strength in the 40, 300 and High Jump. Track Rookies Chris Giampapa and Nick Madden were potent forces in the shot put, as was veteran Clark Pricket. David Sardilli and Co-Captain Jeff Nussbaum showed their prowess both on the road and on the track. Stalwart seniors Damien Job and Co-Captain James G. Wheaton led The Distance Crew, fresh off its phenomenal 1-7 Cross Country Season.

With James "Kinney" McCowan at the fore, the "D-Boys" were a key factor in the team's success, and also provided amusement throughout the season. Coaches Jeff Robbins, John Monz and Thayer Plante were sources of support, motivation and, often, entertainment.

And with all but four varsity letterman returning, and a strong crop of underclassmen, the future looks bright for the Weston Indoor Track Team.

Beyond Expectations!

An Amazing Wrestling Season

The Wrestling Team made Weston High School very proud this year. They won match after match, defying all expectations of a not too successful season.

Captains, Brian Sullivan, Dave Harding, Jeff Michael and Guillermo Kennedy led the team to the DCL title–a victory which has not been achieved for many years. The team's reputation became such that each opponent crept timidly onto the mat to meet the Wildcats. There was little competition.

Jeff Michael and Guillermo Kennedy both won their sectionals and continued onto New Englands where they both did very well.

Congratulations to the Wrestling Team for an amazing season.

A Balancing Act!

Cheerleaders Thrilled the Fans!

While sitting in the cafeteria at lunch a few days ago, I heard a group at one of the tables attempting to do the cheer," Weston How You Doin'." As they shouted out some wrong words and messed up the rhythm, I thought about all of the other times when I heard groups incorrectly mumbling the words while walking down the hallways. So as a tribute to all of the people who have attempted to do the cheer, I thought I'd write out all of the words for you so that when you go to the games, you'll be able to cheer along.

Weston How You Doin'?

Weston How You Doin'. . . . .WHAT?
Weston How You Doin' . . . . WHAT?
Weston, Weston, Weston, Weston,
Weston, How You Doin'
We got it like that.
Our team is ever boomin' and you know that we are fresh.
So just put, put, put, put, put, the ball
in the basket (end zone).
And you will be rewarded.
Our team is in effect, and you know
we get it started.
Let's get it started. Oh, Oh;
Let's get it started. Oh, Oh:
Let's get it started.

Now that you know the words you have no excuse but to sing along; and you also have no excuse not to be a cheerleader. We need as many girls (or boys) as possible. This winter's Basketball Cheerleaders are: Jen Beane, Annie Dempsey, Jen Hamilton, Chrissy Eisner, Crystal Theall, Toya Watts-Cooper, Heather DeAllie, Jaqueta Oliver, Joanne Kampoures and Denise Saunders. This is a very diverse group of girls and if we can do it, you can do it. The cheerleading squads, both football and basketball, have made drastic improvements in the past several years. For the past two summers, the Weston squads have gone UCA Cheerleading Camp at Emmanuel College. We've learned lots of cheers, as many fans know, and have acquired many new techniques as well. We've worked hard and have had a lot of fun doing it, and there's no reason why you shouldn't take part in it. I hope to see a big turnout at tryouts next year. So all of you Wildcat fans, learn the words and keep cheering.

Rombas

For over forty years, the Weston-Rombas program has served as a link between cultural exchanges. Students from Weston are supported by the Rombas Committee for a year abroad in Rombas, France or Porto Allegre, Brazil. Meanwhile, ten Weston families share in hosting two students from overseas.

While Weston sophomore Ania Buzia is having an adventure of a lifetime in France, Stephane Rohmer is her French counterpart experiencing our Weston culture. Ana Paula Kasper hails from Porto Allegre, Brazil; while 1992 Weston graduate James Vaughan only recently returned from spending a winter in Brazil.

The club wants to show its worldly concern. At Halloween, a successful "Send-A-Treat" fund-raiser was held at school. The profits were used to provide a young mother and child, recently immigrated from Ethiopia, with some needed holiday gifts.

Food being a key component of culture, the club takes full advantage of the many different ethnic restaurants in the area. For part of a day in the spring, the third-graders come up for the fun-filled Dia de Fiesta. The International Club members take a great responsibility in the day's preparation.

Big Brother–Big Sister

The Big Brother–Big Sister program consists of juniors and seniors who visit with an elementary school child once a week during the school day in an effort to help that child, or a group of children, with academic or social skills. This provides the young children with someone to look up to and be appreciated by. The program runs the length of the school year.

High school students spend an hour a week helping younger students and in the process they benefit as much as the children they are helping.

David Cope is the group's advisor. He began this program last year as an off-shoot of the Peer Counseling program.

Students for Environmental Action is a group of students who are concerned about the environment. Under new officers Alex Kendall, Shannon Sickels, Danya Reda, Elizabeth Saunders and James McCowan–SEA is enthusiastically improving environmental awareness at Weston High School. The leaders have the goals of introducing recycled copy paper, lined paper, paper napkins and paper towels. They are also concerned about the amount of waste products in the school, so have raised money for a dishwasher for resusable plastic trays in the cafeteria, and are rebuilding the paper recycling program with new vigor.

SEA members are also concerned about the environment outside of the school. In the fall they participated in "Coast Sweep,"traveling to Plum Island in Newburyport where they successfully removed trash from a stretch of beach. SEA continues its interest and support for the diminishing rainforest in Belize, where they currently own twenty-two acres.

With dedication and enthusiasm, SEA has worked hard this year to improve environmental awareness of both students and faculty on and off the campus.

Issue after issue, our audience is treated to an abundance of fine examples of creative student writing–be it drama, poetry, or comedy. The magazine also includes examples of student art.

Throughout the year, the Maelstrom staff meets every week to read and decide upon various papers that may be selected for the upcoming issue.

If you want your writing to be published, submit it to a member of the staff, or give it to Ms. Busse, the advisor .Word has it, that the pile of papers in the Maelstom folder grows larger every day.

Diligently and cooperatively, our staff works many hours in order to create the outstanding literary publication, Maelstrom.

Triathalon Club

BELOW. We certainly have a large number of "Wanna Be" triathalons at Weston High this year.

The Triathalon Club made a strong showing in the Massachusetts fall competition this year, placing second in the state all-around tournament–next to powerhouse Athol. With over twenty-five percent of the school enrolled, the team spirit was phenomenal. Senior standout and co-president Dave Harding commented, "This was by far the best season we've ever had at Weston. People are finally starting to take the Tri-club seriously and recognize the fact that we are a club."

Senior co-president Dave McFarland and chief bike mechanic, Brian Sullivan, were among the team's top performers, qualifying for the Pan-Am Games this summer. Strong contributors were sophomores Josh "tug" Winston, Jack Ryan, and John Shumaker; juniors Chris Melling and Matt Delduchetto; and seniors CeCe Sullivan, Tricia DiBenedetto, Steve Davenport, Peter Haas, and Nicko Abraham.

Due to the large numbers of club members, not all of the club was able to be represented in the yearbook photo this year. So please if you see someone who looks like they could be in Weston High Triathalon Club, stop and ask them if they are among the elite. If they are, congratulate them and if they aren't, encourage them to come out next year. Remember, the continuance of the mighty Tri-club depends on you!

Yes, the Art Club is alive and doing their thing. Although our agenda is a little open-ended, those of us who are active members enjoy exercising our artistic talents down in the Art Room. We also take pleasure in observing and critiquing the work of others. We consider ourselves fortunate to have an advisor who is a talented artist that inspires us with his colorful canvases.

Being the Art Club presidents is an emotionally draining experience. We'd like to thank all the people that signed up for the club at the Activities Fair, even though most of you never showed up.

Stockyard is the school store. It is run completely by students in Weston High. Our sponsor is Mr. O'Connor, and this year the president is Kaimy Blocker and the vice-president is Tarquinia Townsend.

So far, we have had a prosperous year. We sold out our Weston sweatshirts, mainly to the Spanish Exchange students. As a result, we order new hooded sweatshirts and also boxer shorts.

We still continue selling Mentos and cough drops, as well as sugar-free gum.

We hope to keep the tradition of a student run store in the school.

—Nadeem Ghali

Mr Desaulniers organized the new Student Parliament as a way to include ideas from the students in making school policy.

Weston High School is a small and sheltered world where we spend a great deal of time and energy trying to prepare ourselves to be a part of the world once we leave here. Learning, coping, sharing, growing–can we make a difference?

As we participate in our many activities, we have come together in a common cause. This feeling of being a part of the working whole, sure feels good.

And don't forget those – $e^{\pi i}$ math–masters! Far too humble to openly boast of their membership on the Math Team, mathletes train weekly for the five high-intesnsity meets and program every known formula into their TI-81's.

Although generally blown away at meets by Cantonites, who take Math Team as a full credit course and are suspected of genetic engineering, the Wildcat Varsity Core of Mathletes has achieved a high proportion of base 1 1 quartic polynomial successes in the Small School Division.

Courageous. Outstanding. Unpredictable. Weston High's Science Team is truly like no other. We don't prepare for hours on end the night before a meet.

We do all our work on the bus, and we never worry. Sure, our special approach hasn't brought us to the top of every meet, but we have our fun.

An improvised race car win, an on the spot marble launcher production, and an incredible egg drop success are all historical moments for the team.

What is it that keeps devoted teamers returning after defeats? It's the (free food) element of surprise and air of challenge that draws each member to compete. Through bugs, bogs and radioacivity, the Science Team ventures onward.

Peer Counseling

Remember what it was like to be in eighth grade? Advice from high school students was invaluable.

Peer Counselors from the junior and seniors classes make this opportunity available to eighth graders by meeting periodically with groups of them to talk about problems.

The Peer Counseling group is made up of high school juniors and seniors who spend a considerable amount of time being trained to counsel eighth grade students in issues that range from drugs and alcohol, to dating problems, to other issues of importance to younger students about to enter the teen-age ranks and high school.

One of the great features of this organization is that it not only helps younger students prepare for high school life, but it gives the older students an opportunity to interact with eighth graders. One can learn a lot about one oneself by teaching others.

We had a productive Discussion Group this year. We discussed many issues that affect Weston High School students—some personal and some not.

Discussion Group provided a great chance to share different views and listen to other's opinions. There aren't many chances that we (the students) get to talk about issues or problems that affect us–to each other.

The group has given a bunch of us that opportunity. There are thirteen of us, including our advisor, David Cope, who regularly meet Tuesday Conference periods and we have gotten to know each other better.

No issues are "out of the question" and our discussions are confidential.

Discussion Group has provided a relaxed atmosphere for us to share problems and ideas with our peers. It's always interesting to hear different points of view.

Theater Company & The Odd Couple

The Theater Company began the season with not one, but two outstanding productions, the male and female versions of Neil Simon's The Odd Couple. Under the brilliant direction of Mr. Minigan, who somehow managed to juggle both shows simultaneously, the plays were full of hilarious, bizarre characters and memorable performances by each of the fifteen cast members, including the stage manager.

Instead of just basking in the afterglow of the success of The Odd Couple, the Thespians immediately embarked on some new projects. Rehearsals began for Weston High's entry into the drama Festival — a condensed version of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing, set in the 1940's in Boston's North End.

Within weeks, rehearsals also began for the spring musical, 42nd Street, a veritable "extravaganza" of music and dance, featuring over 40 performers.

Under the inspiration and leadership of the amazing Mr. Minigan, the members of the Theater company have not only participated in great productions but also in field trips, competitions and general frolicking as well.

Student Council

Under the leadership of co-presidents Peter Haas and Jill Foley, this year's Student Council has been involved in many activities and fund-raisers, both in and out of Weston High School. We have brought about the revival of the Thanksgiving pep rally; sponsored a can drive, and subsequent dance, to collect food for the hungry and aided Operation Overcoat.

The 1992-93 Student Council has done more than just raise funds and aid charities, we have also been involved in the attempt to improve Weston High School. We have discussed issues of sexual harassment and theft, the results of which will be exhibited next year's "Student Bill of Rights." We are also planning school beautification projects.

The goal of the Student Council has always been to voice the concerns of the student body in an attempt to better the school. This year's Student Council has done just that.

Elected to the society their senior year were Stacy Jupiter, Arshad Mushtaq, Maruxa Campo, Ann Mitsakos, Thomas Kim and Jill Foley.

Town Criers & Pralines

The Town Criers are a select group of male singers chosen by audition only. The repertoire is challenging multi-part a cappella. The potential candidates are chosen as a result of their ability to blend, to project in small groups, and their degree of solo voice capability. The group consists of ten young men this year.

Pralines is another a cappella singing group consisting of nine girls that perform voluntarily for such places as the Westonian and Merriam Village. This year we also got the chance to perform at Downtown Crossing for a charity group. The girls have had a great year.

Despite the fact that Weston High's a cappella groups did not perform at the winter concert, the Town Criers and Pralines are scheduled to perform at the junior class auction, the March Pops Concert, and the spring concert.

As the heavenly music floats into Mrs. Nick's room, the Home Ec classes run to the orchestra room to hear the melodic sounds! Well, not quite yet. After years of a small population, the string orchestra has finally gotten its attendance up to an acceptable level. Under the fine tutelage of Ronald Mori, the String Orchestra has begun improving the quality of their performances.

These improved performances can also be attributed to the impressive quality of the individual musicians. Six of the instrumentalists were accepted in Senior District– Claudia Toth, Alyce Erdekian, Jeff Chow, Christina Evans, Karen Yen and Richard Hsu. There is no question that the orchestra should only become better and stronger next year.

Concert Choir is a distinguished group of students, both male and female, selected by Mrs. Taggart. Each candidate is usually skilled in reading music and holding a part. As all the other vocals groups, Concert Choir performs in the Winter Concert and Spring Pops concert and also sends many talented singers to Senior District Festival. Members of Concet Choir also sing Christmas Carols at the Josiah Smith Tavern and at elementary schools during the holiday season.

—Ruheena Razvi

The Mixed Chorus, directed by Denise Taggart, is an excellent group and much fun too. The students who chose to share their talents and sing in this group are greatly rewarded with beautiful music and great camaraderie. The year is divided by three concerts– Winter, March and Pops

We all love Mixed Chorus.

Stowing Away the Time

Panorama — Yearbook

Panorama 1992-93 was only completed by the hard work and extra hours put in by the Yearbook editors and staff under the guidance of Mrs. Iona Nickeson. There were countless times during the year when they thought it never could be e done, but with Mrs. Nick's help they pulled through.

When editors-in-chief Jackie Finard, Sarah Glovsky and Stacy Jupiter took on their job of editing, they soon discovered that there are millions of factors involved in putting together a yearbook.

Besides drawing layouts and taking pictures, each page must have articles, headlines, captions and scores for the sports teams. Then everything must be put into the computer, be proofread and mailed to the publisher by the deadline—a word which brings fear to the yearbook editors at its mere mention.

It was through the help of a terrific staff that the yearbook was produced. Section editors devoted much of their time after school, while photographers ran rampant through the halls of Weston High School looking for last-minute candids. Not to be forgotten in all of this are the efforts of the business and advertising staffs, who worked hard selling books and ads—without which none of this would be possible.

However, all of the work seems worth it when the books arrive—to become a lasting memory of this accomplishment.

1992–93: A Year in Review

After enjoying the pleasures of summer vacation and the excitement of Summer Olympics '92 in Barcelona, Spain, the student body filed back to the halls of Weston High School for yet another school year. Tragic as it may sound, it did not stop the world from turning or impact the myriad of current events that have flavored the 1992–1993 school year. Just as the students came back to clean out their old gym lockers, the United States was making huge clean-up and rescue efforts in the South where Hurricane Andrew had wreaked destruction.

The race for the presidency received the biggest news coverage during the fall. Was Ross Perot in or out of the running? As it turned out, on November 3, 1992, voters ended a twelve year Republican hold when Democratic Governor Bill Clinton bested current President George Bush for the title.

As the students of WHS were becoming accustomed to the initiation of morning assemblies on the first day of the month and the purging of a dying detention system, overseas a war was being raged in a torn–apart Yugoslavia as the Serbians and Bosnians, among others, were fighting for independent states. Meanwhile in Somalia, millions were dying of starvation as tyrannous warlords prevented the distribution of needed food and medical rations. United States troops were sent abroad to help remedy the ongoing crisis.

On Columbus Day in October, the nation celebrated the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' maiden voyage and so did Weston High with a full day celebration of activities and learning.

In sports, the Toronto Blue Jays became the first Canadian team to win the World Series and the Dallas Cowboys ended the Buffalo Bills' third consecutive bid for a Super Bowl Title. HIV positive Magic Johnson officially retired from the NBA and Boston said farewell to the legendary Larry Bird by retiring number "33" to the rafters of the Garden. Meanwhile, Weston played in its own Superbowl, for the second year in a row, to fall in a close match against Westwood. Both the field hockey and girls' soccer teams experienced post-season play. The wrestling team captured the DCL title and the swimming and track teams remained strong contenders.

Spike Lee released his controversial Malcolm X and people of all ages fell in love with Disney's latest hit Aladdin. Breaking the music charts were Eric Clapton, Pearl Jam, Spin Doctors, U2, Boyz II Men, and Arrested Development, to name but a few. Weston High lit up the stage themselves with productions of The Odd Couple, Much Ado About Nothing, and 42nd Street.

All in all, 1992-1993 has been utterly unforgettable. The time has come now to relax and await the biggest event of the year, graduation '93.

But on you will go though

On you will go though your enemies prowl.
On you will go though

Onward up many a

Though your arms may

On and on you will hike.

Constanca,

The difference between "possible" and "impossible" lies in our determination. But determination is not yet a value; it is so only when it points to virtue. This means that everything you should do is possible if you want to.

Success

To laugh often and much;
to win the respect of intelligent people
and affection of children;
to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others;
to leave the world a bit better,
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
this is to have succeeded.

1992-93 — A Summary

And finally, the end has come. The new spring brings us to a joyful, but also nostalgic, period when seniors must say good-bye and everyone will have to look back on times which they will never experience again.

I'm sure we'll all remember our new vice-principal, Mr. Desaulniers; the mid-year scare we had with Mr. MacDonald; and our new "first Monday of the month" assemblies, which brought us all a little more awareness about our school.

This year also had its fair share of very exciting sports moments with both girl's soccer and field hockey making States; a great football team; and exciting basketball and swim meets to attend all winter.

We all eagerly watched the news to see who our new president would be, in an election which will affect our generation a great deal. We saw President Clinton and Vice-president Gore come out on top. Yugoslavia was torn with civil war and the world had many changes.

Just like change is inevitable in the world, so must our high school change. Each grade moves up, leaving a space for the grade below them. So now, the Class of '93 will give way to '94 and a new crop of freshman will appear. We all wait excitedly!

Class of '93 — Wild 'n Free

On June 4th, the Class of '93 will be saying good-bye to Weston High School. For many of us, enduring these past twelve years has not been easy, but we've created friendships and memories that will last a lifetime. It seems so sad, that just as our class has finally come together, we must say good-bye.

This book is dedicated to the Class of 1993. We hope that you will look over these pages and reflect on what you've accomplished and how you've grown over the years. The future is bright for each and every one of us.

No matter where we all end up next year, we will always have Weston High as our common ground. We love you '93!
